Texas Critical Incident Stress Management Training (Texas CISM)-
DeZavala Room

This is an intensive 15 hour course designed to teach participants the nature and dynamics of stress after a critical incident or traumatic event and the provision of immediate, incident specific, supportive crises intervention as part of a CISM team. The purpose of this course is to train participants to assist in the debriefing of emergency workers who have experienced critical incident such as line of duty death, death of a child, multiple casualty/fatality scenes, etc. in order that they may return to their duty faster and healthier. The course is targeted to social workers, nurses, clergy, other mental health professionals, emergency workers, fire and law enforcement. Pre-registration is required as enrollment is limited to 40 participants. Participants must commit to the full course of instruction.
